

Snowlands Network – Privacy Policy

We use contact information to provide information and services related to our mission. From time to time we share names and postal addresses with our non-commercial partners and affiliates. This provides you with the opportunity to learn about related issues and activities of other like-minded organizations. We never share email or telephone information. We never sell any contact information. At any time you may request, by email or in writing, that none of your contact information be shared.
